BEST PRACTICES

- Drop often, don't edit -- raw thoughts beat polished notes every time
- Email is your superpower -- forward articles, voice-to-text, shower thoughts
- One thought per email -- makes it easier for AI to find connections
- Don't organize -- the system finds the patterns for you
- Read your daily digest -- it's your "wake up lighter" moment

WHAT TO EXPECT

Every morning, you'll receive an email digest. It finds the threads between your scattered thoughts and weaves them into something coherent. No app to open. No dashboard to check. Just email.

COMMON QUESTIONS

Is it private?

Yes. Your thoughts are yours. They're encrypted, never shared, and never used to train AI models.

How is this different from Notes?

Notes stores your thoughts. DropAnywhere thinks about them -- finding patterns and connections you'd miss.

What if I forget to check?

That's the whole point. Drop and forget. The digest finds you in your inbox when you're ready.
